WIS- DOM STO- NE

The “Wisdom Stone” of Paloma Finesse

“A stone has burst out of the sea to the surface

He immediately caught the stone and mounted on it.

Now Bai-Ulgen is content,
at ease, he finally has a place
where he would rest.”

Tengri, in order to save the drowning person asking for his mercy calls for a sturdy stone, hence brings out a stone from the bottom of the water.

In mythology the stone is the savior, a safe haven where one can stand on. Stones are the most permanent testimonials of the world which will exist till the end of time. The pieces constructed by mankind by shaping the stones, and the signs engraved on them by their hands are the sturdiest bridges from past to future that will shed light over history.

Stones hold a significant place in various cultures of Anatolia especially in pre-historical times called the Aterian cultural age. Well-distinguished artist Günnur Özsoy is famous for her abstract figures.

08 In her sculpture installation specially designed for Paloma Finesse, she used organic forms as she usually does.

They are using metal tweezers to place a green pea sprout onto a dish. The dish features a large pile of shredded white vegetables, possibly daikon or radish, topped with fresh green herbs like basil and pea sprouts. Below the main garnish, there are several whole cherry tomatoes and a dark, flat stone-like base with some red and white garnishes scattered on it. The background is dark and out of focus, showing a kitchen setting.

GARDEN
by FINESSE

Yuzu Garden, inspired by the calm, meditative, spacious-area, stone and rock-dominated form of Zen gardens, was enriched with tropical plants suitable with Finesse's geography. Thence, the concept has become a natural şow with the Wabi-Sabi philosophy, where order and clutter go together.

The "tree of life" at the heart of the garden and the shade of the Ficus were created as a resting place where people gather together under the tree and think about both their own lives and the world they live in.

In fine, Yuzu Garden & Finesse; a space to stand, see, taste, be alone/to be one and admire.

Immerse yourself in the natural beauty of the Mediterranean Sea and experience a vibrant atmosphere of live music played by our resident DJ.
